To whom it may concern:

As requested, we are providing to you the following:

1. Summary of Federal tax filings for the years 2008, 2009 and 2010;
2. Explanation and reconciliation of charitable contributions for those years;
3. Copies of full tax filings made for those years; and
4. Investment Portfolio Changes.

Each of these will be discussed in turn.

Summary of Federal tax filings for the years 2008, 2009 and 2010

The following table identifies Gross income (Line 22 of the Federal tax form 1040), Tax liability, Line 61 in year 2008 and Line 60 in years 2009 and 2010) and the calculated tax liability for each year.

Charitable contributions for those years

Several years ago Mr. and Mrs. Leppert established the Leppert Family Charitable Foundation (Foundation) to make a large portion of their annual charitable contributions. The Leppert's have typically made tax deductible charitable donations into the Foundation and then directed disbursement of funds from the Foundation to be distributed to charities. Additionally, each year, the Leppert's also make charitable donations to several charitable organizations directly from their bank account.

A break out of charitable gifts made into the Foundation, from the Foundation to charitable organizations, and direct gifts made to charities for each requested tax year is outlined below.

The Federal tax filings for the Lepperts for the years of 2008, 2009 and 2010 are attached.

Investment Portfolio Changes

Prior to Mr. Leppert being elected to the office of Mayor of Dallas Texas, he was invested in individual stock and bond accounts, several mutual funds, and limited partnerships. As a result of Mr. Leppert being elected to the office of Mayor of Dallas Texas, his investment portfolio was changed. All of the accounts that held individual stock or bond positions were liquidated. Even though Mr. Leppert did not have any ability to direct which stocks or bonds were purchased or sold, he decided to liquidate the accounts to ensure no conflict of interest was possible while in office. He maintains a few investment funds that are in the form of a Limited Partnerships (that cannot be liquidated), cash, and a few mutual funds that are held by family members. However, Mr. Leppert has no ability to direct investments within these funds.

Sincerely,
